PRESIDENT IN LAST OF GABFEST.

Indulges in Verbose Reply to Congressional Prod On Civil Service Slur.

NOW LET CONGRESS BE GOOD.

[By United Press]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—President Roosevelt's expected special message on the Secret Service was sent to the House today. It denies the statement made in the House resolution of inquiry that he had charged any member of the present Congress with corruption, or that the majority of Congressmen were in fear of investigation by detectives. He gives the names of former Senators and Representatives concerned in connection with land frauds, and reiterates the declaration made in his annual message that the limitation placed by Congress on the operations of the Secret Service must be of benefit only to the criminal class.

Of the work done by the Secret Service, he refers to the land, naturalization, lottery, silk, opium, ink and other frauds. He recommends that all the Government detective services be consolidated into a single bureau to be attached to the Department of Justice, and that Chief Wilkie's salary be increased from $4,000 to $6,000 a year.

He denies strenuously that he ever used the Secret Service in purely private or political matters.

He charges that agitation against the Secret Service was begun with an article written by L. W. Busbey, private secretary to Speaker Cannon. The President presents a strong argument that he was merely right in making the criticisms that enlivened the opening months.

"I am wholly at a loss," he says, "to understand the concluding portion of the House resolution. I have made no charges against Congress, nor against any member of the present House. If I had proof of such corruption affecting any member of the present body matter as to which the Federal Government has jurisdiction, action would at once be brought as was done in the cases of Senators Mitchell and Burton, and Representatives Williamson, Hermann and Driggs at different times since I have been President.

"A careful reading of my message will show that I said nothing to warrant the statement in the House resolution that 'the majority of the congressmen were in fear of being investigated by the Secret Service men,' or 'that Congress as a whole was actuated by that motive.'

"But all of this" continues the President's message, "is of insignificant importance compared with the main, the real issue. This issue is, simply, Does Congress desire that the government shall have at its disposal the most efficient instrument for the detection of criminals and the prevention and punishment of crime, or does it not? The action of the House last May was emphatically an action against the interest of justice and against the interest of law-abiding people, and in its effect of benefit only to lawbreakers. In the House not willing to remedy the wrong?"

PALMETTO CLUB IN SESSION.

Little Tots Sing Sweetly "The Bells of Christmas Ring"—Fine Program.

MAHOGANY TABLE INSTALLED.

The Palmetto club held its regular meeting Thursday afternoon. The weather outside was dreary and showery; inside, though showery, everything was bright and cheerful. The room was beautifully decorated in red and green. A large Christmas bell and several smaller ones, gay with electric lights, added to the charm.

The program was carried out according to calendar, the day being called a "bright shower."

Eight little fairies under the instruction of Mrs. Haynes came tripping in and sang a Christmas carol, keeping perfect time with graceful motions, and were as sweet and lovely as only tiny fairies can be.

The president, Mrs. Stillman, assisted by Mrs. Niver, opened the shower, which was baggily long but broken by the little tots sweetly singing "The Bells of Christmas Ring."

We forbear to name the donors for fear some might be overlooked. A number clubbed together and gave a handsome mahogany table for the dressing room, a large rug and umbrella stand. There were two or three tea tables, a large coffee pot, tea pot, sugar bowl and creamer, two fine vases filled with beautiful flowers, tea table covers, coat hooks, screen and scrap basket. The new safe had its ugliness hidden and its usefulness doubled; one large chair and two small ones, dear tiny pots of flowers for some, new year's cards for many, warm clothes for the little baby in need, a few gifts for different members and candy for every one, which the little fairies, assisted by Master Maurice Niver, passed around. Many gifts were accompanied by rare gems of poetry, and one envelope held something to assist in getting a dressing table.

It was announced that there would be a meeting to reorganize the civic department at 3 o'clock next Monday afternoon. All were urged to be present.

Tickets for the banquet can be had of Mrs. Clark at the George H. Clark store. It is requested that all secure tickets as early as possible.

There was a short business meeting and a very delightful club afternoon was over.

The music was in charge of Mrs. Bells Abbott Haynes and Mrs. Esch was the hostess for the day.

Dr. and Mrs. Adolph Morgenstern, enroute from Havana, Cuba, and other points south, to their home in Cincinnati, stopped over here for a visit with their friends, Theo. Sengstak and family, at Daytona Beach.

GET A SCARE WHILE BATHING.

It was a pretty close call for J. T. Gray, the Kansas Citian who was beyond his depth Sunday in the surf, a heavy sea breaking and his companions looking out for themselves, not realizing that one of their party was in trouble.

It is often the case that it is the good swimmer that gets in bad in ventures in the surf. So it was in Mr. Gray's case. It is his ability to handle himself well in water under any ordinary circumstances that tempted him to get out too far when the breakers were fierce and the undertow not to be resisted.

About ten or twelve young men were over at the ocean pier yesterday morning about 10 o'clock for a plunge into the surf. The sea was grandly rough and the swimmers were disporting themselves in the breakers, having a royal time, when Hathaway, himself an expert swimmer, discovered that Gray was in trouble. It was his strength and skill in battling with a rough sea and his timely assistance that got Mr. Gray safely out.

Mr. Gray feels as one snatched from the grave and hereafter he will be content to wrestle with shore breakers rather than go out to head through the walled-up ones that break with cannon-like roar.

MEDIA, Pa., Jan. 4—Paleness and apparently on the verge of a nervous collapse over the trial of her sister, Mrs. Clayton Beisel for the murder of her husband, J. Clayton Erb, the district attorney resumed his merciless cross examination and is again trailing the nerve-wrecked woman over the events of the night of shooting in a desperate effort to make her contradict her previous testimony and break down the strong case set up by the defense that Mrs. Beisel shot Erb to defend herself from a threatened attack with a revolver. The woman, however, stuck to her original story.

RESTRAINING ORDER GRANTED.

In the United States district court Saturday Judge James W. Locke granted a petition for an injunction restraining Sheriff Turner from disposing of at public sale the stock and merchandise of Moore Brothers, recently declared bankrupt. The sale was to have occurred today.

The petition for an injunction was granted to Armstrong, Cator & Co.; H. B. Claflin & Co. and G. & H. Fuld, creditors of the bankrupt firm. These creditors alleged in their application for an injunction that judgments had been obtained by certain other creditors, and that the stock of merchandise of the bankrupt firm would be sold by the sheriff of Volusia county today to satisfy the judgments unless such proceedings were stopped; that should the sale be conducted and the goods disposed of, the bankrupts, according to law, would be subject to discharge, and that such a discharge at this time when their claims had not been satisfied would work an irreparable injury to them.

Keeping Up the Limit.

In J. Georges Carr's reminiscences is a characteristic anecdote of Burne-Jones, who had consulted his doctor about certain symptoms which seemed alarming.

"How many cigars do you smoke in a day?" the doctor inquired of his patient, to which Burne-Jones had carelessly replied, "Oh, I think about six."

"Well," replied his adviser, "for the present you had better limit yourself to three." And in detailing the incident to me afterward Burne-Jones added, with a chuckle, "You know, my dear Carr, I never did smoke more than three."

Nicotine.

"If excessive smoking alone could cause heart degeneration," writes a correspondent of the London Mail, "such cases would be common instead of extremely rare. The fact is that only an almost infinitesimal amount of nicotine is absorbed in smoking. An ordinary sized cigar or an ounce of smoking tobacco contains enough of this virulent poison to kill two men. The only reason all smokers are not killed at once is that the nicotine is destroyed in the combustion of the leaf."

A Wide Range.

Where the subjects are discussed in the schools of Kansas is illustrated by the following, which is said to be an actual occurrence: "Now, children," said the teacher, "we will take up the subject of arithmetic. Johnny, you may tell me if a man had two cows, and one died, how many would he have left?" "Two, teacher." "No, Johnny, he would have one left." "Well, you may tell me if a man had two cows and one died, how many would he have left?" "Two, I guess, ma'am." "Why, Johnny, how can you be so ignorant? What is your trade?" "Please, ma'am, I'm not a butcher, I'm only a cowboy."

Not Up to Date.

"Why don't you get a license to marry?" asked the parson. "I don't need it," said the bridegroom. "I was born before license, so I can put on light blue ties, I can play the cornet and I can do you all first rate if I'm the one to say it, doc."—Youth's Companion.

Keeping Up the Limit.

In J. Comyns Carr's reminiscences is a characteristic anecdote of Burne-Jones, who had consulted his doctor about certain symptoms which seemed alarming.

"How many cigars do you smoke in a day?" the doctor inquired of his patient, to which Burne-Jones had carelessly replied, "Oh, I think about six." "Well," replied his adviser, "for the present you had better limit yourself to three." And in detailing the incident to me afterward Burne-Jones added, with a chuckle, "You know, my dear Carr, I never did smoke more than three."

Nicotine.

"If excessive smoking alone could cause heart degeneration," writes a correspondent of the London Mail, "such cases would be common instead of extremely rare. The fact is that only an almost infinitesimal amount of nicotine is absorbed in smoking. An ordinary sized cigar or an ounce of smoking tobacco contains enough of this virulent poison to kill two men. The only reason all smokers are not killed at once is that the nicotine is destroyed in the combustion of the leaf."

A Wide Range.

When the surgeon who happened to be spending a night at Brubbly Inn had set the broken leg of the weather beaten stranger who was the chief victim of an automobile accident the patient looked up at him anxiously. "See here, doc," he said in a husky voice, "I haven't got much of any money. Would you take out your fee in trade?"

"Yes, I guess so," said the surgeon cheerfully. "What is your trade?"

"Well, I've got a number of things I can do soon as I'm on my feet again," said the patient. "I can hang window blinds, or I can put on lightning rods, or I can play the cornet, and I can do 'em all first rate, if I'm the one to say it, doc."—Youth's Companion.

The Modern Seven Wonders

Daytona's Incomparable Ocean Beach.

One of Daytona's crowning glories is her incomparable beach. No one who ever set foot upon its smooth, packed sands; no one who ever pedaled a bicycle over its expanse; no one who ever drove a prancing pair of horses and listened to the popping of their steel shoes upon its asphaltum-like face; no one who ever steered a high-power automobile down the broad stretch of wave-washed and surf packed sand but realized that it is a world-beater, a world-wonder. Go stand upon this wide speedway and see the happy souls that by in joyous mood, and answer whether this is not one of the seven modern wonders.

The Placid, Peaceful Halifax River.

Where think you is water with more picturesque surroundings? Nearly a mile wide, fringed with tropical vegetation, artistic cottages with roomy verandas looking out upon her bosom, gamey food fishes in countless numbers beckoning, as it were, to them with rod and reel; her bosom flecked with duck and coot and snowy-winged sea birds, which sit about as if for the sport of bobbing upon her waves; watch that lubberly old white headed pelican pouch a fat mullet, and that fish hawk struggling upward with his floundering load he snatched from the water.

See the beautiful lunettes, spick and span, their hampers and lockers bulging with refreshments both solid an liquid ready for a cruise upon her beautiful surface. Take out your field glass and sweep the river from Ormond bridge to Ponce Park light house, then say whether the Halifax isn't a thing of beauty and a joy forever, and one of the modern wonders.

The Enchantingly Picturesque Ridgewood.

Ridgewood avenue is upon the crest of a broad ridge, straight as the crow flies, and the wide-spreading branches of the heavy-trunked live oaks extend their giant arms across this magnificent vista, forming an arch, and from these extended arms great festoons of Spanish moss sway as the trade winds from tropic seas fan them. Looking straight ahead down this white shell street one has the impression of a fairy path with effects diaperies, but as you move along and cast an eye or find to the right and then to the left you are distinguished cottage homes in the most delightful settings.

See the glistening leaf of the grand magnolia which nature has varnished as no artist's brush ever could; and the cabbage palms with their bunches of showy fruit and swaying palms; see the lovely holly with its exquisite berry; see th climbing vines running riot in the trees see the cryptogamous forms which gain a foothold on the great oaks and the stately palms, and surely you will join in the chorus and say that this is a world wonder for beauty.

Surpassing Beauty of Our Cottage Homes.

No one of Daytona's attractions, perhaps commands more nearly universal attention and praise than does the artistic cottage. The owners of those charming villas hail from every corner of the country and they bring their own architectural plans and build upon them, and as the architects of our creation of the country differs from the architecture of another so do our homes differ in outward appearance and structural beauty from one another. There are no monotonous rows of strikingly similar buildings but the eye, as it sweeps by, is treated to a kaleidoscopic change which keeps the mind wondering "What next?"

It is not only the exterior of many of these homes that elects attention; within as they are models of convenience, and the finish and furnishing give evidence of the elegance and cultivation of those who worked it all out. Indeed it is the interior arrangement and the artistic furnishing and shading, more than the exterior appearance that give a unique-ness charm to Daytona homes. This feature justly merits prominence as wonder number four.

Streets and Pavements the Most and Best.

Why the Architect of the Universe chose to give to Daytona the most admirable, the most picturesque natural setting of all the cities of the South is not revealed but that such is a fact must be apparent to the most superficial observer. With such lavish wealth of natural beauty it became an easy thing for the hand of man to give the little finishing touches which have brought out the colors and outlines of the fair picture.

Man did all this in the laying out of the streets with their wide margins of parkage. The entire city becomes a great park, with driveways interesting, miles upon miles of shoreways as good as the smart motorists from all over the continent.

And as for pavements, pavements that look and act like granite,—where else between the eastern and western seas are so many miles in proportion to inhabitants? The pavement question stands with the direct as one of the chief drawing cards. Till some unheard-of pince reports more and better, Daytona throws down the gauntlet to the world.

Squirrels, Flowers, Birds and Fruits.

Whatever one's shortcomings and however indifferent or ere callous one may be to many things, the mere mention of "squirrels and flowers, birds and fruits" will send a thrill that is reflected in distended pupils and pricked ears.

For every visitor with a spare "goober" there is a bunny ready to come out and accept your gift. He will sit bolt upright and gnaw into the meat, casting furtive, saucy glances at you meanwhile.

Flowers! Usually fresh and blooming the year 'round. You are reminded of Goldsmith's couplet where

Smiling spring its earliest visit paid
And summer's lingering blossoms are delayed.

In one yard roses of variegated hues predominate, another household have a penchant for the poinsettia while the premiacr are aflame; another is hidden in a jungle of tall cane. Variety is the spice of life and here is where you find it.

The birds flit in, and with their joyous notes help to give fullness and symmetry to the picture.

As for fruits, choice citrus fruits, Daytona yields the palm to none for quality and quantity per acre. There are scores of citrus groves in proximity to the city, branches bending to the earth with their burdens of luscious golden globes, which for beauty, prolificacy and all desirable qualities would truly astonish.

The Fastest Autos And The Finest Out.

The seventh world wonder, do you ask? Come, whether from Missouri or from Maine, from Kalamazoo or from Timbuktoo and you will be "shown." Here is where world's records for speed are broken with every returning season. Autos the biggest, the fastest and the finest are on daily parade and the big show is as free as the pure, artesian water from the thousand flowing wells. It is a continuous show with constantly shifting scene.

Everything goes, from a 2-horsepower up to a 200-horsepower, and all degrees of speed from a canter to a two-mile-a-minute clip. You will probably catch the spirit and when you do the roads and the beach are yours. The Florida sunshine is free, the balmy ocean breezes are free, the sparkling fountain water is free and you will have to go down in your wallet only for coin for the auto and bed and board.

This is no fanciful picture; it's all here. It is drawing other thousands and holding them enthralled, it will charm and hold you. Come and see.

Women Oyster Gatherers.

The work of oyster gathering and culling is most unsuitable for women but in France, owing to its tedious nature, it does not appeal to men. Often from an early hour in the morning till late into the evening the women are standing up to their knees in water with a strong sun beating down on them. The result is that hence it is that horses without some of them going mad and having to be hurried away to the asylums. The work is well paid, indeed it ought to be, while in the case of the few who own beds the profits are large, and small fortunes are quickly amassed.

Jessie.

It is related that when the young man who afterward became Sherrel Freeland ran away with and married Jessie James, his friend, the great scoundrel, made terrible threats of what he would do to the young man. He would give him rounds and bullets, one for each of which Mrs. Bedford quietly remarked, "You had better give him Jessie, my dear."

Quite of Her Opinion.

"Oh, I did so want to have a talk with you! I'm simply mad to go on the stage!" exclaimed a gushing young lady to a popular actor.

"Very true, old chap. This is no brother's cup." Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"Why do you wear a sparkling cap-doah bow? It's your brother that owns the yacht."

The Modern Seven Wonders

Daytona's Incomparable Ocean Beach.

One of Daytona's crowning glories is her incomparable beach. No one who ever set foot upon its smooth, packed sands; no one who ever pedaled a bicycle over its expanse; no one who ever drove a prancing pair of horses and listened to the popping of their steel shoes upon its asphaltum-like face; no one who ever steered a high-power automobile down the broad stretch of wave-washed and surf-packed sand but realized that it is a world-beater, a world-wonder. Go stand upon this wide speedway and see the happy souls flit by in joyous mood, and answer whether this is not one of the seven modern wonders.

The Placid, Pellucid Halifax River.

Where think you is water with more picturesque surroundings? Nearly a mile wide, fringed with tropical vegetation, artistic cottages with roomy veranda's looking out upon her bosom, gamey food fishes in countless numbers beckoning, as it were, to those with rod and reel; her bosom flecked with duck and coot and snowy-winged sea birds, which sit about as if for the sport of bobbing upon her waves; watch that lubberly old white headed pelican pouch a fat mullet, and that fish hawk struggling upward with his floundering load he snatched from the water.

See the beautiful launches, spick and span, their hampers and lockers bulging with refreshments both solid an liquid ready for a cruise upon her beautiful surface Take out your field glass and sweep the river from Ormond bridge to Ponce Park light house, then say whether the Halifax isn't a thing of beauty and a joy forever, and one of the modern wonders.

The Enchantingly Picturesque Ridgewood.

Ridgewood avenue is upon the crest of a broad ridge, straight as the crow flies, and the wide-spreading branches of the heavy-trunked liveoaks extent their giant arms across this magnificent vista, forming an arch, and from these extended arms great festoons of Spanish moss sway as the trade winds from tropic seas fan them. Looking straight ahead down this white shell street one has the impression of a fairy path with elfish draperies, but as you move along and cast an eye first to the right and then to the left you see distinguished cottage homes in the most delightful settings.

See the glistening leaf of the grand magnolia which nature has varnished as no artist's brush ever could; and the cabbage palms with their burdens of showy fruit and swaying palms; see the lovely holly with its exquisite berry; see th climbing vines running riot in the trees see the cryptogamons forms which gain a foothold on the great oaks and the stately palms, and surely you will join in the chorus and say that this is a world wonder for beauty.

Surpassing Beauty ot Our Cottage Homes.

No one of Daytona's attractions, perhaps commands more nearly universal attention and praise than does the artistic cottage. The owners of these charming villas hail from every corner of the country and they bring their own architectural plans and build upon them, and as the architecture of one section of the country differs from the architecture of another so do our homes differ in outward appearance and structural beauty from one another. There are no monotonous rows of strikingly similar buildings but the eye, as it sweeps by, is treated to a kaleidoscopic change which keeps the mind wondering "What next?"

It is not only the exterior of many of these homes that rivets attention; within they are models of convenience, and the finish and furnishing give evidence of the elegance and cultivation of those who worked it all out. Indeed it is the interior arrangement and the artistic furnishing and shading, more than the exterior appearance that give a surpassing charm to Daytona homes. This feature justly merits prominence as wonder number four.

Streets and Pavements the Most and Best.

Why the Architect of the Universe chose to give to Daytona the most admirable, the most picturesque natural setting of all the cities of the South is not revealed but that such is a fact must be apparent to the most superficial observer. With such lavish wealth of natural beauty it became an easy thing for the hand of man to give the little finishing touches which have brought out the colors and outlines of the big picture.

Man did all this in the laying out of the streets with their wide margins of parkage. The entire city becomes a great park, with driveways intersecting, miles upon miles of driveways so good as to attract motorists from all over the continent.

And as for pavements, pavements that look and act like granite,—where else between the eastern and western seas are so many miles in proportion to inhabitants? The pavement question stands with the street as one of the chief drawing cards. Till some unheard-of place reports more and better, Daytona throws down the gauntlet to the world.

Squirrels, Flowers, Birds and Fruits.

Whatever one's shortcomings and however indifferent or eve callous one may be to many things, the mere mention of "squirrels and flowers, birds and fruits" will send a thrill that is reflected in distended pupils and pricked ears.

For every visitor with a spare "goober" there is a bunny ready to come out and accept your gift. He will sit bolt upright and gnaw into the meat, casting furtive, saucy glances at you meanwhile.

Smiling spring its earliest visit paid
And summer's lingering blossoms are delayed.

In one yard roses of variagated hues predominate, another household have a penchant for the poinsettia and the premises are aflame; another is hidden in a jungle of tall cane. Varietv is the spice of life and here is where you find it.

The birds flit in, and with their joyous notes help to give fullness and symmetry to the picture.

As for fruits, choice citrus fruits, Daytona yields the palm to none for quality and quantity per acre. There are scores of citrus groves in proximity to the city, branches bending to the earth with their burdens of luscious golden globes, which for beauty, prolificacy and all desirable qualities would truly astonish.

The seventh world wonder, do you ask? Come, whether from Missouri or from Maine, from Kalamazoo or from Timbuktoo and you will be "shown." Here is where world's records for speed are broken with every recurring season. Autos the biggest, the fastest and the finest are on daily parade and the big show is as free as the pure, artesian water from the thousand flowing wells. It is a continuous show with constantly shifting scene.

Everything goes, from a 2-horsepower up to a 200-horsepower, and all degrees of speed from a canter to a two-mile-a-minute clip. You will probably catch the spirit and when you do the roads and the beach are yours The Florida sunshine is free, the balmy ocean breezes are free, the birds and squirrels and flowers are free, the sparkling fountain water is free and you will have to go down in your wallet only for coin for the auto and bed and board.

This is no fanciful picture; it's all here. It is drawing other thousands and holding them enthralled, it will charm and hold you Come and see.

Women Oyster Gatherers.

The work of oyster collecting and culture is most unsuitable for women but in France, owing to its tedious nature, it does not appeal to men. Often from an early hour in the morning till late into the evening the women are standing up to their knees in water, with a strong sun beating down on them. The result is that never a year passes without some of them going mad and having to be hurried away to the asylums. The work is well paid, as, indeed, it ought to be, while in the case of the few who own beds the profits are large, and small fortunes are quickly amassed.

Jessie.

It is related that when the young man who afterward became General Fremont ran away with and married Jessie, Tom Benton, the great senator, made terrible threats of what he would do to the young man. He would give him roasts and bullets, and so on. To all of which Mrs. Benton quietly remarked, "You had better give him Jessie, my dear."

Quite of Her Opinion.

"Oh, I did so want to have a talk with you! I'm simply mad to go on the stage!" exclaimed a gushing young lady to a popular actor.

"Yes, I should think you would be, my dear young lady!" remarked the great histrion.

Consistent.

"Why do you wear a yachting cap, dear boy? It's your brother that owns the yacht."

"Very true, old chap. This is me brother's cap."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

THE REEDS CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING.

Congratulations By Letter and By Wire From All Points of Compass.

There are few more diverse than golden weddings. Mr. and Mrs. William B. Reed celebrated their golden wedding Saturday. Only a few of their close friends were invited, as invitations elsewhere prevented a large party. Their home paper, the Hastings, Minnesota, Democrat, contained the following:

"Mr. and Mrs. William B. Reed invite all their friends to their golden wedding at No. 22 Riverside Drive, Daytona Beach, Fla. on January 2, 1908. No presents will be accepted. Postal card replies will be acceptable."

Mr. and Mrs. Reed are well in the highest esteem by their host of friends here, who unite in offer congratulations and best wishes on the occasion of their golden wedding, hoping that their descending years may be crowned with days of quietude, where shadows have no place.

By mail and wire came to them many congratulations. Colonel Stone, of the Street Boat Co. writes:

"Congratulations on the fifteen years trip, and a Happy New Year. May your last lasts forever and always, and your evening time be warm and the sun shine on you through it all. As we are so far away we cannot make the trip, three hundred miles in the water."

From Mrs. D. B. Tyler, now in sunny Cal., came a letter that was hardly like a letter, but a message of love that is being sent to Mr. and Mrs. Reed to be brought to him next to Richmond, Mr. Tyler fifty-two years ago.

The presents received, and from the family were many and fine. The groom to the bride who are good friends in the community with demonstrations of regard as the way the bride showed how the gold fits, very part of them. Silver was the silver gift of many friends.

Will the Bill Go?

Will the Bill go? Will the Bill not go? Nobody can tell. And nobody cares to even say what will be the bill, if it ever comes to be introduced.

The Bill is for your benefit. Or, rather, for the right kind of investment.

The Bill is for your own private investment in the natural food and clothing of St. Louis.

Mr. and Mrs. Reed are enthusiastic lovers of Florida. This is their summer home South, and their fourteen years in the peninsula state will be a theme of sentiment, pleasure whether in Florida or south of their home.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—The United States Supreme Court today decided against the Consolidated Gas Co. in the Missouri gas case. The New York corporation planned a new Existing gas rate of 80 cents and the company carried it to the Circuit Court, which held the new ordinance unreasonable. An appeal was taken.

PRESIDENT IN LAST GAMFEST.

sent to Speaker Cannon April 30, protesting against interference with the Secret Service, in which he said: "There is no more foolish outcry than this against spies; only criminals need fear our detectives."

The message reviews the operations of the Secret Service from since 1901. They uncovered a system for the fraudulent acquisition and fencing of public lands. In this work one of the detectives was assassinated. In Nebraska 60,000 were indicted for land frauds, and of 32 so far tried 26 have been convicted. The government has secured the return of 1,000,000 acres of grazing land and of 2,000 acres of timber land in Colorado. It is suing for 130,000 additional acres.

They assisted in the land office investigations and located the missing link in the agricultural department. Their detection of a lottery company before the government $200,000 in fines in arresting the ink contract fraud in the bureau of engraving and printing they saved the government $100,000 a year. The total expense of the secret service last year was $1,025,000.

"I most earnestly ask in the name of good government and decent administration, in the name of honesty and for the purpose of bringing to justice evildoers of any degree, save where proof may be found, whether in public or private life, that the active aides to the Secret Service be retained.

"I also urge that the secret service be insured where it properly belongs and made a bureau in the government of justice, as the chief of the secret service has repeatedly requested.

Cities Will Be Rebuilt.

(By United Press.)

ROME, Jan. 4.—Messina and Reggio will be rebuilt, this was the decision brought to Rome today by Cardinal Nava, who arrived from Messina. He said the destruction of these cities has been pictured in the most extravagant terms, but whatever the trouble in the earthquake the inhabitants are not going to leave their homes are ready to rebuild their immediate surroundings.

In the meantime in spite of the cold, to find a single instance in which an entire family survived a single disaster is impossible.

Rescuers are now engaged in removing corpses, and clearing them in the ruins of Messina. The King and Queen congratulations will be actively employed for the immediate relief.

The Pope today received a telegram from the emperor of Austria-Hungary, expressing his sympathy with the sufferers in the earthquake throughout the world.

It is said Saturday that all the survivors will be removed to other cities.

The government has appointed a commission to look after the interests of the orphans of Messina and Reggio.

The Archbishop of Messina has issued a pastoral letter to the people of that city.

THE AMERICAN FLEET IS DIVIDING UP.

They Go To Various Points Around The Mediterranean Sea Coasts.

[By United Press.]

CAIRO, Jan. 4.—Two hundred officers of the American fleet are now at Suez, arrived today, the advance guard of the 500 who have been given permission to step off here. The fleet is said to be under orders to split up temporarily and to scatter to Malta, Algiers, Marseilles, Trieste, Messina, and other Italian quake ports that need aid.

THE REEDS CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING.

Congratulations By Letter and By Wire From All Points of Compass.

There are far more divorces than golden weddings. Mr. and Mrs. William B. Reed celebrated their golden wedding Saturday. Only a few of their close friends were present, as circumstances prevented a large party. Their home paper, the Hastings, Minnesota, Democrat, contained the following:

"Mr. and Mrs William B. Reed invite all their friends to their golden wedding at No. 10 Riverside South, Daytona Beach, Fla. on January 2, 1908. No presents will be accepted. Postal card replies will be acceptable."

Mr and Mrs. Reed are held in the highest esteem by their host of friends here, who unite to offer congratulations and best wishes upon the occasion of their golden wedding, hoping that their succeeding years may be crowned with days of sunshine, where shadows have no place.

By mail and wire came to them many congratulations. Captain Stroud of the Stroud Boat Co writes:

"Congratulations on the fiftieth round trip, and a Happy New Year. May your fuel tank never get empty, nor your cylinder refuse to spark until the old hulk goes on the beach for good. As we are so far apart we cannot splice the main brace together even in the water."

From Hon. D. B. Turax, over 90 years old, came a letter that was more like a young man's. Mr. Reed tells us he bought his first land in Minnesota of Mr. Turax fifty-two years ago.

The presents accepted, only from the family, were surely fine. The groom's to the bride was let gold eagles in wet envelopes with directions or exact as to the way the bride should use the gold. We copy part of these "directions." The others are of same import.

"With this $10 buy the most precious thing of which you can think."

"Any one who attempts to even suggest what you do with this $10 will get into trouble."

"This $10 is for pure frivolity. Don't even let the cash know its destination."

"This $10 is for your own private use—not for corned beef and cabbage for Mr. Reed."

Mr and Mrs. Reed are enthusiastic lovers of Florida. This is their seventeenth winter South, and their fourteenth here. He predicts there will be a million Northern people winter in Florida a score of years hence.

Gas Company Looses.

[By United Press.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—The United States Supreme Court today decided against the Consolidated Gas Co. in the 80-cent gas case. The New York legislature passed a law fixing the price of gas at 80 cents and the company carried it to the Circuit Court, which held the law unconstitutional. An appeal was taken.

President Upheld.

Gains On The Stand.

[By United Press.]

FLUSHING, L. I. Jan. 4.—If Thornton J. Hains is acquitted of the charge of murdering William E. Annis he will owe it chiefly to his own personality. He took the witness stand in his own behalf shortly before the noon recess today, and showed that he was going to make an excellent witness.

PRESIDENT IN LAST GARFEST.

sent to Speaker Cannon April 30, protesting against interference with the Secret Service, in which he said: "There is no more foolish outcry than this against spies; only criminals need fear our detectives."

The message reviews the operations of the Secret Service men since 1901. They uncovered a system for the fraudulent acquisition and fencing of public lands. In this work one of the detectives was assassinated. In Nebraska 60 men were indicted for land frauds, and of 32 so far tried 28 have been convicted. The government has secured the return of 1,000,000 acres of grazing land and of 2,000 acres of mineral land in Colorado. It is suing for 150,000 additional acres.

They assisted in the beef trust investigation and located the rotten leak in the agricultural department. Their destruction of a lottery company netted the government $300,000 in fines. In revealing the ink contract fraud in the bureau of engraving and printing they saved the government $100,000 a year. The total expense of the secret service last year was $125,000.

"I most earnestly ask in the name of good government and decent administration, in the name of honesty and for the purpose of bringing to justice violators of the federal laws wherever they may be found, whether in public or private life, that the action taken by the House last year be reversed.

"I also urge that the secret service be placed where it properly belongs and made a bureau in the department of justice, as the chief of the secret service has repeatedly requested.

Cities Will Be Rebuilt.

[By United Press.]

ROME, Jan. 4.—Messina and Reggio will be rebuilt; this was the message brought to Rome today by Cardinal Nava who arrived from Messina. He said the destruction of those cities had been pictured in the most extravagant stories, but whatever the results of the earthquake the commercial advantages of these places are such as to demand their immediate rebuilding.

In his searches he says he has failed to find a single instance in which an entire family survived in either Messina or in Reggio.

Rescuers are now engaged in weighing corpses, and sinking them in the straights of Messina. The King went into consultation with his cabinet today over the measures for Calabria relief.

The Pope today widened the scope of his appeal so as to include not only Catholic privates, but their persons and quantances throughout the world.

It is not believed that any more persons will be found alive in the earthquake ruins.

The government has issued orders for the arrest of any merchant found guilty of raising the prices in food.

The Government is now attempting the most rigid censorship in most matters of quake news.

Miss Thewe Eliot returned to Kingsley Saturday from Gainesville where she was in attendance at the State Teachers Association meeting.

Prof. and Mrs. C. R. M. Sheppard and child returned Saturday from a visit with Mr. Sheppard's parents in the interior of the State.
